The Compass Fellowship is a dynamic two-year program that enables fifteen freshmen to become social entrepreneurs. Through a unique personal development and social business training program, Fellows interact with CEOs, bestselling authors, and start-up innovators, they receive mentorship and guidance from upperclassmen students and entrepreneurs from the community, they are connected to internship opportunities in areas of passion, and they receive access to funding so that they each can launch their own social business ventures. Fellows engage in weekly modules, team-building retreats, workshops, and social business simulations, all which challenge them to think creatively and develop innovative solutions to change the world.
